Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).
- Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 10/03/04.
- 2a) ☒ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☐ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

Disposition of Claims

- 4) ☒ Claim(s) 1-23 and 32-55 is/are pending in the application.
- 4a) Of the above claim(s) 13-23 and 32-48 is/are withdrawn from consideration.
- 5) ☐ Claim(s) _____ is/are allowed.
- 6) ☒ Claim(s) 1-12 and 49-55 is/are rejected.
- 7) ☐ Claim(s) _____ is/are objected to.
- 8) ☐ Claim(s) _____ are subject to restriction and/or election requirement.

Application Papers

- 9) ☐ The specification is objected to by the Examiner.
- 10) ☐ The drawing(s) filed on _____ is/are: a) ☐ accepted or b) ☐ objected to by the Examiner.
Applicant may not request that any objection to the drawing(s) be held in abeyance. See 37 CFR 1.85(a).
Replacement drawing sheet(s) including the correction is required if the drawing(s) is objected to. See 37 CFR 1.121(d).
- 11) ☐ The oath or declaration is objected to by the Examiner. Note the attached Office Action or form PTO-152.

Priority under 35 U.S.C. §§ 119 and 120

- 12) ☐ Acknowledgment is made of a claim for foreign priority under 35 U.S.C. § 119(a)-(d) or (f).
a) ☐ All b) ☐ Some * c) ☐ None of:
1. ☐ Certified copies of the priority documents have been received.
2. ☐ Certified copies of the priority documents have been received in Application No. _____.
3. ☐ Copies of the certified copies of the priority documents have been received in this National Stage application from the International Bureau (PCT Rule 17.2(a)).
* See the attached detailed Office action for a list of the certified copies not received.
- 13) ☐ Acknowledgment is made of a claim for domestic priority under 35 U.S.C. § 119(e) (to a provisional application) since a specific reference was included in the first sentence of the specification or in an Application Data Sheet. 37 CFR 1.78.

DETAILED ACTION

1. This Office Action is a response to the amendment dated 10/03/2003. Elected Claims 1-12, 49-59 and non-elected claims 13-23 and 32-48 are pending in the application. Non-elected claims 13-23 and 32-49 were withdrawn from further consideration per Office Action dated 10/22/02. In a response to this Office Action, Applicants should cancel the non-elected claims to expedite the prosecution, should the response place the application in condition for allowance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-12 and 49-55 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Pepe et al (USP 5,742,668) (hereinafter "Pepe").

Regarding claim 1, in accordance with Pepe reference entirety, Pepe discloses in a communication system (Fig. 4) that includes a service provider (48) and a subscribers (30), a method for processing services comprises the steps of:

indicating to the subscriber that the service provider is capable of supporting a service (see col. 16, lines 36-50);

receiving service processing logic from the subscriber to allow the service provider to provide the service (see col. 18, lines 1-16 and col. 19, line 66 to col. 20, line 52);

executing the service processing logic received from the subscriber to provide the service to the subscriber based on the service processing logic when the service has been requested (see col. 18, lines 16-20).

Regarding claim 2, in addition to features recited in base claim 1 (see rationales pertaining the rejection of base claim 1 discussed above), Pepe further discloses wherein the step of indicating is performed upon receipt of at least one of: a service registration from the subscriber and a service invocation from the subscriber (see col. 16, lines 36-50).

Regarding claim 4, in addition to features recited in base claim 1 (see rationales pertaining the rejection of base claim 1 discussed above), Pepe further discloses within receiving an indication of service requirements of the one of the plurality of subscribers by the service provider; and determining whether the service provider is capable of supporting the at least one service base on the indication by the service provider (see col. 16, lines 1-51).

Regarding claim 5, in addition to features recited in base claim 1 (see rationales pertaining the rejection of base claim 1 discussed above), Pepe further discloses the step of storing a service application, and wherein the service processing logic comprises custom user parameters, wherein the custom user parameters modify the service application to meet customization requirement of the subscriber (see col. 19, line 66 to col. 20, line 52, Pepe discloses the subscriber profile download and modifying process and col. 26, line 4 to col. 27, line 34 for PDA application).

Regarding claim 6, in addition to features recited in base claim 1 (see rationales pertaining the rejection of base claim 1 discussed above), Pepe further discloses the service processing logic comprises a service application and custom user parameters that relate to the service (see col. 19, line 66 to col. 20, line 52 and col. 26, line 4 to col. 27, line 34).

Regarding claim 7, in addition to features recited in base claim 6 (see rationales pertaining the rejection of base claim 6 discussed above), Pepe further discloses queuing the at least one service when at least one of: the service provider has insufficient processing and memory and the communication system has insufficient communication resources (see col. 23, line 38 to col. 24, line 64 for the handling of wireless messaging).

Regarding claim 8, in addition to features recited in base claim 1 (see rationales pertaining the rejection of base claim 1 discussed above), Pepe further discloses deleting the service processing logic by the service provider based on deletion parameters, wherein the deletion parameters comprise at least one of: a time out period, service priority, processing and memory availability, number of times that at least one service has been executed exceed a threshold, and lack of activity (see col. 17, lines 6-63 for deregistration process).

Regarding claim 9, in addition to features recited in base claim 1 (see rationales pertaining the rejection of base claim 1 discussed above), Pepe further discloses the steps of: receiving a command from the subscriber; and disabling the service processing logic in response to the command when the subscriber is authorized to command disablement of the service processing logic (see col. 17, lines 6-63 for deregistration process).

Regarding claim 10, in addition to features recited in base claim 9 (see rationales pertaining the rejection of base claim 9 discussed above), Pepe further discloses the step of disabling the service processing logic by at least one of: erasure and inactivation (see col. 17, lines 6-63 for deregistration process).

Regarding claim 11, in addition to features recited in base claim 10 (see rationales pertaining the rejection of base claim 10 discussed above), Pepe further discloses the step of, when the service processing logic was disabled by inactivation, subsequently receiving a second command from the subscriber to reactivate the service processing logic (see col. 17, lines 6-63 for deregistration process).

Regarding claim 12, in addition to features recited in base claim 1 (see rationales pertaining the rejection of base claim 1 discussed above), Pepe further discloses the step of receiving authentication from the subscriber to allow the service provider to support the service (see col. 15, lines 9-11).

Regarding claim 55, in addition to features recited in base claim 1 (see rationales pertaining the rejection of base claim 1 discussed above), Pepe further discloses the steps of: receiving a request for the service from a second subscriber (32 or 34); and executing the service processing logic received from the subscriber to provide the service to the second subscriber (see Fig. 1 and col. 5, lines 5-30).

Art Unit: 2666

Regarding claim 49, in accordance with Pepe reference entirety, Pepe discloses in a communication system (Fig. 4) that includes a service provider (48) and a plurality of subscribers (30-34), a method for processing services comprises the steps of:

determining that the service provider is capable of supporting a service (see col. 16, lines 36-50);

sending service processing logic to the service provider to allow the service provider to provide the service (see col. 18, lines 1-16 and col. 19, line 66 to col. 20, line 52);

receiving the service processing logic based on the service processing logic received from the service provider when the service has been requested (see col. 18, lines 16-20).

Regarding claim 3, in addition to features recited in base claim 49 (see rationales pertaining the rejection of base claim 49 discussed above), Pepe further discloses within receiving an indication of service requirements of the one of the plurality of subscribers by the service provider; and determining whether the service provider is capable of supporting the at least one service base on the indication by the service provider (see col. 16, lines 1-51).

Regarding claim 50, in addition to features recited in base claim 49 (see rationales pertaining the rejection of base claim 49 discussed above), Pepe further discloses wherein the service processing logic comprises custom user parameters, wherein the custom user parameters modify the service application to meet customization requirement of the subscriber (see col. 19, line 66 to col. 20, line 52, Pepe discloses the subscriber profile download and modifying process and col. 26, line 4 to col. 27, line 34 for PDA application).

Art Unit: 2666

Regarding claim 51, in addition to features recited in base claim 49 (see rationales pertaining the rejection of base claim 491 discussed above), Pepe further discloses the service processing logic comprises a service application and custom user parameters that relate to the service (see col. 19, line 66 to col. 20, line 52 and col. 26, line 4 to col. 27, line 34).

Regarding claim 52, in addition to features recited in base claim 49 (see rationales pertaining the rejection of base claim 491 discussed above), Pepe further discloses sending an indication of service requirement to the service provider (see col. 15, lines 1-11).

Regarding claim 53, in addition to features recited in base claim 49 (see rationales pertaining the rejection of base claim 491 discussed above), Pepe further discloses the step of sending a disable command to the service provider to disable the service provider from providing the service based on the service processing logic (see col. 17, lines 7-63).

Regarding claim 54, in addition to features recited in base claim 49 (see rationales pertaining the rejection of base claim 491 discussed above), Pepe further discloses the step of authenticating the service provider to allow the service provider to support the service with the service processing logic (see col. 15, lines 9-11).

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed 10/03/2003 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicants' arguments will be addressed hereinbelow in the order in which they appear in the response filed 10/03/02.

In the Remarks of the outstanding response, on pages 6-7, pertaining the rejection of claims 1-12 and 49-55, Applicants asserts Pepe "fails to disclose the service provider receiving service processing logic from the subscriber ..., and executing the service processing logic received from the subscriber to provide the service to the subscriber". To support the allegation, Applicants further state "Pepe discloses an internetwork that interconnects messaging services with both wireless and wireline networks ... Pepe teaches away from the present invention because the subscriber in Pepe does not provide new service processing logic directly to the service provider to be executed on behalf of the subscriber".

In response Examiner respectfully disagrees for the following rationales.

First, Applicants fail to recognize or address Examiner's position in the Office Action. Pepe, as clearly pointed out in the Office Action, discloses PCI server 48 (corresponding to "service provider") receive e-mail notification (corresponding to "service processing logic") from PDA 30 (corresponding to "subscriber") (col. 18, lines 1-16). PCI server 48 acknowledges the notification and provides PDA 30 the e-mail service. Since there is no specific definition for the term "service processing logic" in the claims, Examiner asserts the interpretation of Pepe's "e-mail notification" from PDA

30 to correspond to the "service processing logic" is proper and just. Therefore, in light of the claim language, Examiner is content Pepe discloses the claimed invention.

Second, after a careful review the disputed claims, Examiner finds no such language of "the subscriber provides new service processing logic directly to the service provider to be executed on behalf of the subscriber". Perhaps applicants refer to certain features that are disclosed in the present application but not recited in the rejected claims in making the contention that the Pepe reference fails to show certain feature of applicants' invention. Applicants are reminded that although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

Examiner believes an earnest attempt has been made in addressing all of the Applicants' arguments. Due to the arguments are not persuasive, the rejection from the last Office Action is maintained.

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
